

PRE-CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

Public health: how to deal with climate change?

November 20th, 2019

Room The Goudes 2, Parc Chanot, Marseille

*French to English and English to French translations will be available.
Each conference will include a time for questions from the audience.*

9:00 – 9:15 Public welcoming

9:15 – 9:30 Opening

9:30 – 10:00 Introduction « Climate change and health impacts »

Overview of climate change's global issues, and current knowledge on climate change consequences on public health.

Alice McGushin, Programme manager, Lancet Countdown on Health and Climate Change

10:00 - 10:30 First talk « Health impact of urban heatwaves »

Heatwave's health impacts are going to increase mainly in urban areas: links and effects

Gerardo Sanchez, Senior advisor in health and climate, Technical University of Denmark

10:30 - 11:00 / coffee break

11:00 - 11:30 Second talk « Air quality and climate change: which relationships? »

Relationships between those two processes and consequences on public health. Which public policies will imply co-benefits?

Mathilde Pascal, Manager of climate change project, Santé Publique France

11:30 - 12:00 Third talk « Vector-borne diseases and climate change »

How is/will climate change impact(ed) the development of vector-borne diseases?

Cyril Caminade, Tenure Track Fellow, Institute of Infection and Global Health, University of Liverpool

12:30 - 14:00 / Lunch break

14:00 - 15:15 First round table

« Health and climate change into urban planning »

Which integration of health threats in public policies, new initiatives of urban planning and public health?

Chairman: Maxence Moreteau, Urban-planner, director of Adeus Reflex

Clément Deloly, Engineer in urban planning and health, School of Public Health, ISADORA project

Andreas Delleske, Director of Dellekom, inhabitant of the ecodistrict Vauban of Freiburg, Germany

Gerardo Sanchez, Senior advisor in health and climate, Technical University of Denmark

Policy maker

15:15 - 15:45 / break

15:45 - 17:00

Second round table

« Climate change: an opportunity to promote transversality in public health policies: which benefits and how to encourage them? »

Towards transectorial work between public health and environmental policies. Health inequalities.

Chairwoman: Muriel Andrieu-Semmel, Director of health and environment department, Regional agency for health in Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur

Thierry Lang, Director of de l'Institut Fédératif d'Etudes et de Recherches Interdisciplinaires Santé Société (IFERISS), Professor at the French institute for health and medical research (INSERM)

Anne-Peggy Hellequin, Researcher in geography, Laboratoire Dynamiques Sociales et Recomposition des Espaces, France

Cyrille Harpet, Lecturer, School of Public Health, France

Policy maker

17:15 - 17:30

Conclusion

Produced by:

AIR Climat/GREC-SUD